

Bay Area Travel Writers Inc.
A Professional Organization of Travel Writers and Photographers

Bay Area Travel Writers, based in San Francisco, CA, is a not-for-profit, professional association of writers and photographers with outstanding achievements in travel journalism. These professionals share their unique stories in newspapers, magazines, books, the internet, and other travel industry publications.

Monthly meetings, held since 1985, provide a lively exchange of information among our widely traveled colleagues. Speakers from tourist boards and destinations make presentations to inform members of travel trends and news. We also hold panel discussions on subjects such as marketing, publishing and photography.

BATW encourages the highest professional standards among its members. Working travel journalists and photographers may apply for Active Membership. Up-and-coming journalists may join as Provisional Members, and may participate with veteran journalists in a new mentor program. Travel industry professionals are invited to become Associate Members.
